stuart : I always imagined how wonderful it would be to know God personally.

I was raised with an Irish Catholic background and believed the Bible was God's word. I knew I was not living a good life, however, part of me wanted to do what God wanted. Inevitably I would do the wrong things, and I became someone who lived for the moment. I was happy, yet at the same time I was still interested in God and always imagined how wonderful it would be to know God personally.

One day I was told that through Jesus' death, I could receive the Holy Spirit. I jumped at the chance. I asked God for the Holy Spirit. I felt a great power welling up inside me and I spoke in tongues. I felt a joy and peace I never knew existed. I could now pray and see God working first hand. For example, a friend had a brain tumour and had lost most of her mental capacity. I laid hands on her and prayed, and God simply healed her. God has enabled me by his power to change, and live the life the Bible says I should live. The swearing, drinking, drugs and other bad habits I had, have gone. I now have a life of love, joy and peace that comes only from God.

jeanette : Knowing that I am not alone is a wonderful blessing in my life.

I had always believed in God and believed that the Bible was true. Over a period of time, a relative told me about the things of God. I had many questions, which were answered directly from the Bible. It was after attending a dinner night at the Toowoomba Revival Fellowship and hearing how other people had come to receive God's Holy Spirit that I realised what was missing in my life. That night I was encouraged to pray to receive the Holy Spirit.

It was a few weeks later that, after a short time of prayer, I received the Holy Spirit with the Bible evidence of speaking in tongues. I went on to be baptised by full immersion. Over the past seventeen years, the Lord has healed me of migraines and hay fever. I have been through some difficult times, but just knowing that I am not alone and the Lord is always there to answer my prayers, is a wonderful blessing in my life.

ron : I believed in God but did I know God?

When I was 16 I left my family and joined the Navy. During my basic training I met two guys who talked to me about God, a lot! They asked me some uncomfortable questions. I believed in God, but, did I know God? Did believing in God make me a Christian? Had I been baptised? Had I been filled with the Holy Spirit? I tried to justify my own position, but they showed me verses from the Bible that made me think I wasn't a Christian at all!

I went to church and consented to be baptised by full immersion. A few minutes later, while I was praying, I was filled with the Holy Spirit and started to speak in a language I had never learned. Now I was a Christian! I had the same experience as the first Christians and proof that Jesus is alive. My life has not been perfect. My wife is recovering from cancer. I made some poor decisions that had very bad consequences. I was nearly killed in a motorcycle crash. The list is quite long! But Jesus' love and faithfulness and the Holy Spirit's power have kept my family and myself safe through it all.

kala : Growing up I couldn't relate to the Hindu religion.

Growing up, my family's religion was Hindu. However, I couldn't relate to the Hindu religion, so I began going to a Uniting Church. Eventually I moved away from home and forgot about Church. Due to circumstances, my life started going downhill. I had no friends, and did not have anyone to confide in, or speak to. I began visiting internet chat rooms to talk to people. I met someone who had been instantly healed from addictions to drugs and alcohol. I was amazed at how happy he was, and his faith in God. I knew I didn't have these things, but I really wanted them. I attended a Revival Fellowship meeting. I heard speaking in tongues for the first time, and I was certain that these people weren't making it up. I decided to get baptised and I felt a real joy, knowing I had done the right thing by God. I knew God could give me a new life, so I prayed and received the Spirit of God, with a new language coming out of my mouth! God has given me peace of mind and joy. He answers prayer, gives me a future and a hope of eternal life.
